

A detailed map of Philadelphia and its surrounding suburbs, including areas like Bryn Athyn, Jenkintown, Flourtown, and Palmyra. The map shows the Schuylkill River, major highways (I-76, I-95, I-63), and numerous streets. Fifteen yellow dots are plotted across the map, representing the locations of gunshots. These dots are concentrated in the central and northern parts of the city, particularly in the areas around Center City and University City. The dots are scattered across various neighborhoods, including areas near the University of Pennsylvania, the University of the Sciences, and the University of the Holy Cross. The map also shows the locations of major landmarks like the University of Pennsylvania, the University of the Sciences, and the University of the Holy Cross.
