6/5/12

On 6/5/12, at approximately 1:58 A.M., uniform officers responded to a radio assignment, "Auto accident/Shots fired at Temple Police at 1000 Norris Street". The officers arrived on location and observed the offender armed with a handgun. The offender ran through a breezeway on the south side of the street and pointed his firearm at the officers. Both officers discharged their firearms at the offender, striking him. The offender dropped his weapon and was apprehended without further incident. He was admitted to Temple University Hospital.

It was learned that the offender had earlier discharged multiple rounds at Allied Barton Security personnel. The unarmed security personnel are employed by Temple University, and are a supplement to campus police. An empty .45 caliber firearm was recovered from the offender. Also, .45 caliber fired cartridge casings were located next to the offender's vehicle.
