Officers received a description of the male and were informed that he was walking with a second male. Two of the responding uniformed officers, working in a marked police vehicle, observed two males, fitting the provided description walking at 56th Street and Wyalusing Avenue. When the officers attempted to stop the males, one fled on foot, running south on 56th Street toward Westminster Avenue. One of the officers pursued the male on foot. Two additional responding uniformed officers drove their marked vehicle south on 56th Street, just past the fleeing offender. The offender continued to flee, with the initial officer still pursuing him. The passenger in the second responding police vehicle exited the vehicle and observed the offender turn and point a firearm at the officers. In response, that officer discharged his weapon at the offender. Simultaneously, the officer who was pursuing the offender on foot discharged his weapon at the offender. The offender collapsed in the street and the firearm fell from his hand.

The offender was transported to the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania for treatment.

Plastic jars containing marijuana were recovered from the scene and one jar of marijuana was recovered from the offender's pocket.

A loaded, 9MM semi-automatic pistol, dropped by the offender, and a magazine loaded with eight live rounds were recovered at the scene.
