PS#12-62

8/12/12

On 8/12/12, at 1:41 AM, a uniform officer responded to a radio call of a person with a gun at 8th and Thompson Streets. Temple University police officers pursued the offender. A Philadelphia police officer also pursued the offender to the 1200 block of N. Franklin Street, where the male pointed a .45 caliber handgun at the officer. The Philadelphia police officer discharged his weapon at the offender as the offender continued to run. The offender again pointed the gun at the officer, who discharged his weapon again, striking the offender. The offender fell to the ground and was subsequently transported to Hahnemann University Hospital by Fire Rescue. Recovered at the scene was a .45 caliber handgun, a .45 caliber magazine containing five live rounds, and two additional live rounds of .45 caliber ammunition.
