PS# 13-42

07/22/13

On Monday, 7/22/13, officers in plainclothes in an unmarked police vehicle, were traveling east in the 2300 block of Berks Street. They observed two offenders firing guns in the 1800 block of Bucknell Street. The officers exited their vehicle, verbally identified themselves as police officers, and proceeded south on the 1800 block of Bucknell Street. One of the offenders turned toward the officers and fired at them. The officers retreated to Berks Street for cover after which a dark colored vehicle drove north on Bucknell Street and briefly stopped at Berks Street. Once the vehicle stopped, the officers observed an offender sitting in the front passenger seat with a dark colored gun in his hand. The officers yelled, "Police, police, show us your hands." The offender raised and pointed the gun at the officers. In response, the officers discharged their weapons at the offender. The vehicle fled and was located, along with the driver, in the rear of the 2600 block of Page Street. One offender was apprehended by police as he exited the driver's side of the dark colored vehicle. A second offender was located a couple blocks away with an apparent gunshot wound and transported to the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania for treatment. The third offender was not apprehended.

Recovered from the front passenger floor area of the vehicle was a black .380 caliber handgun, loaded with seven (7) rounds. Recovered in a nearby alley was a Kel Tech 9MM, machine pistol with a collapsible stock, loaded with fifteen (15) rounds.